

THE REMNANT

There is Good News!

Now, I'm not a "power of positive nonsense" type of person. I believe in being a realist. But I also believe that life isn't nearly as bad as some folks make it.

Take the news media, for example. They know that good gossip, dead bodies and abducted/abused children translate into high ratings. So, that's what the majority of a typical news hour dishes out.

When they turn from hard news coverage to talk show formats, they are fully aware that having several talking heads yelling at each other over politics, religion or financial markets are the TICKET.

It's all about the money. They have to pull in viewers, so they have to dish the dirt. "For the love of money is the root of all evil." (1 Timothy 6:10)

IN THE EVIL DAY... STAND

Paul tells us in Ephesians 6:13, "Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand."

That's an interesting phrase, "...in the evil day." I think I can say that we are in "the evil day" and get an amen?

The evil day that Paul is speaking of can be understood to have a personal application to any believer at any time throughout church history. Each of us face "the evil day" at some point, or at many points, in our lives.

When Nero imprisoned a believer during his reign (54-68 AD), I think that Christians could identify it as "the evil day." Many of them were dipped in wax, crucified and lit like torches to light Nero's gardens at night. Most of these went bravely to their death. They stood.

When a Christian watches his spouse turn away from God in a demonic manner that completely ruins her own life, her own family and brings reproach to the name of Jesus Christ and scars her children, friends and other loved ones in ways that will never heal, that man is in "the evil day."

When a parent finds out that their little girl has given her body to a young man and become pregnant, only to murder her own child to cover up the sin, that parent is in "the evil day."

We could cite example after example of Christians past, present and future facing "the evil day" and we would never run out of stories of those who have faced the storms and trials of life, put their face into the wind and STOOD.

There is also a prophetic sense to this word from Paul. And I can confidently state that we are entering that time that can be called "the evil day."

Now, don't take me wrong. You ain't seen NOTHIN', yet.

But Christians in Muslim and Communist/Socialist nations are facing persecution and trial on a level that is clearly a precursor for "the evil day" that will come during the Great Tribulation period, immediately following the Rapture of the Church.

And the writing is on the wall that Christians are about to face the same thing here in America. If you don't believe us, make sure you get this newsletter each month. We are watching closely as street preachers are being jailed, churches and Christian businessmen are being sued, children are being expelled, parents are being harassed... ALL for standing on the word of God. Stay tuned and STAND.

But when we turn to the Bible, we find GOOD NEWS.

Yes, there are dead bodies, abused children and plenty of bad stuff in the good Book. So, what's the difference? Well, your favorite news personality will never end their program with anything other than an appeal for you to tune in for more DIRT next time!

Not so with God's word. God's Book gives us GOOD NEWS.

In God's word, all the dirt (called SIN) is taken care of by the Son, Jesus Christ. When He died on the Cross, He became sin, taking all of our sin upon His own body and bearing the cost. He rose from the dead and defeated sin!

The news media leaves you feeling dirty and hoping you come back for more. In God's word, the blood of Jesus washed the "dirt" and once you are saved, Jesus will never leave you or forsake you. You are SAVED and promised to be with Jesus for eternity, where no sin (dirt) exists.

THAT is good news!!

MORE ON RFID, GPS AND THE MARCH TO THE MARK OF THE BEAST

It's being sold as a wonderful security tool. Protect your pet, your infant, YOURSELF. Get "chipped"!

If your pet gets lost, the animal control folks can scan the back of your pet's neck, load the info into a software program and view ownership information on a typical PC. They can then call you up and reunite you and your family pet. It's a beautiful thing.

Now this system is being sold as a way to protect your children. Mothers are encouraged to chip their infants and rest easy knowing that, for as long as they live, their children can be found within a few minutes.

If you don't believe us or find it all too surreal, take a minute and visit www.verichipcorp.com

Verichip uses Radio Frequency Identification (RFID) technology. RFID sends out a radio signal that is scanned at a specific radio frequency. This scan picks up the signal interpreted as a 16 digit identifier.

The 16 digit identifier is entered into a database, giving the user access to the personal identification of the person who has been scanned. This would include private health, criminal background and other demographic and personal information.

Several thousand Americans are chipped and it is believed that this could run into the hundreds of thousands in a short matter of time.

Verichip is FDA approved.

Other companies are jumping on board and chipping employees in the right hand. Verichip is also implanted in the right hand, but also in the bicep area.

In short order, Global Positioning Satellite (GPS) technology will be added to the RFID chip. This will ensure that if a person is ever lost or abducted, they can be traced using GPS technology.

The "eye in the sky" can zero in on the location of the missing person. Local law enforcement can follow the coordinates and sweep the area. A happy ending! Who wouldn't like that?

It's all for a good

Last month we introduced you to the new salt-sized Hitachi "CHIP".

cause. And if you refuse to go along, you are painted as a paranoid freak who is not a good parent or pet owner. Even blind Preterists and other scoffers who profess to be Christians MOCK those of us who point out this obvious approach toward the implementation of the Mark of the Beast.

Go ahead and mock. I've never cared what anyone thought of me for believing the Bible and discerning the signs of the times.

THE SELF-PROMOTION GROUP BY MIKE KAHLER

Well, here we go again. I was opening my email this morning and an ad for the Dove Awards showed up. This is the 38th annual one, so they've got this cash cow finely tuned.

If you're planning on going you will spend anywhere between $55 and $200 for a ticket. Using their shuttle service? Better pay the $10 per person ahead of the day of the show or you will pay $15 on the show date.

Of course with everything these days there is a $5 processing fee. So, for an average size family of 4 using the shuttle system and getting the "cheap seats" the price would be $265. All this for a night out with the family to hear a group of people feebly attempt to sound like they are thanking

God for all this prosperity and notoriety.

I couldn't help but think when reading this about all the things our Lord Jesus Christ did for us when he came to this earth.

Consider this, He shed himself of His glory, lived on this earth, dealt with the religious figures of the day, was mocked, spit on, whipped, crowned with thorns, forgotten by His friends, made to carry the cross He would be nailed to, was nailed to a cross and publicly made a spectacle of, was pierced in the side with a sword, and all He said just before He died was "It is finished." He actually did all this for us!

This of course is a short list, but it represents the accomplishment, the greatest accomplishment, of anyone at any time in history. Consider now that three days after He was buried, He arose again from the grave. He walked among us for forty days afterward and was seen by many people. Now that is an accomplishment, too! Then He was seen ascending into heaven to sit at the right hand of the Father.

Jesus did all of this. All He would say is that He was doing the will of the One who had sent Him. Would Jesus appear on the GMA Dove Awards? If anyone deserves an award, it's Him. We know He wouldn't. He would recognize exactly what this is.

For those who are invited to appear on the show, I would wish that they would decline. Those who appear are not doing so to preach the Gospel. They are not as humble as they would like to make themselves appear.

Wouldn't it be great if a large group of artists refused to show? The only thing better would be if they did show up and refused the award and spoke out against this type of self glorification.

Unfortunately, it will never happen in this day and age. They will go about, making up songs about how great Jesus is and all the while reaping all the benefits for themselves. They have their reward here on earth.

It's too bad it will burn up, should they show up at the Judgment Seat of Christ.

INFANT BAPTISM: AN EVIL, SATANIC JOKE

I'll never forget when the Lord opened my eyes to just how Satanic the so-called practice of "infant baptism" was. I say so-called because the word baptize is defined as IMMERSE. Infant's are sprinkled and the robed religious crackpots call that "baptism". Others call it "christening", whatever that is.

I had been witnessing the Gospel to a young kid named Scott. He was in his early twenties and had already served time for killing someone while driving drunk. Prison had only helped to harden Scott even more than he had been before his prison stint.

One day, I ran into Scott. I was working the streets in a trailer court and, as God would have it, walked up to Scott's trailer just as he was leaving. I had no idea that Scott lived there and I knew God had arranged this whole thing.

I was thrilled to see Scott and had that happy feeling that I get when I see someone I care about after a long absence. It had been weeks since I had last spoken to Scott and he seemed to be softening toward the Lord.

This time, as I handed him a tract and started to discuss the Gospel, Scott took the tract, wadded it up and threw it at me. His countenance changed as he turned toward his motorcycle and sped off loudly.

Only a few weeks later, Scott would wrap that bike around a telephone pole and enter eternity. He was lost. There is no doubt in my mind.

The funeral took place in our little town and a good number turned out for the service. I had prayed for days that the minister would preach the Gospel to these friends and family of Scott. People that I knew and loved.

Instead, a Lutheran preacher told the crowd that Scott was in Heaven because he had been added to the church as a child when he received holy baptism. This twisted minister of Satan told that crowd that Heaven was gained by an unconscious act perpetrated upon a child by his parents.

Scott lived a Christ-less life and went into a Christ-less eternity. That Lutheran preacher made me sick to my stomach, And I have no doubt that he will burn in the same Hell that his false religion sent Scott to.

THOSE SWEET, PEACEFUL HINDUS

With all the attention being given to the Islamic extremists blowing up children all over the world, we tend to lose sight of the ramifications of false religion elsewhere.

In India, Hindus are beating Christians. Hordes of demonically-inspired Hindu adherents are attacking pastors and other simple believers and ruthlessly violating them. Read this account from Voice of the Martyrs (persecution.com):

INDIA — March 7, 2007, Pastor Reginald Howell of Good Shepherd Community Church was brutally beaten by a Hindu extremist group in Hanumangarh, Rajasthan. According to The Voice of the Martyrs sources, Pastor Howell went to Hanumangarh to pray for the sick and visit Christians in the area. The pastor was beaten with an iron rod and suffered severe injuries on his back. The police refused to register his complaint and as a result, doctors denied him treatment. Rajasthan State has a so-called "Freedom of Religion Bill," that is used as a tool to harass Christians. VOM sources report cases of anti-Christian attacks in the area keep increasing, and the State Administration turns a blind eye to the persecution.

This is not an isolated incident. In another report, a Pastor Anand was beaten in Andhra Pradesh, India by 10 Hindus. They beat him in the face and legs. When they were done, he was unrecognizable.

Read another report from persecution.com:

INDIA – On March 16, 2007 Pastor John Selvan and Brother Vijay were attacked by more than 30 Hindu extremists when they were returning home from conducting prayer meetings in Bhelahalli, Bangalore, India.

"They [the extremists] severely beat the men with sticks, axes and other weapons. The extremists are still holding Brother Vijay, the motorbike and their cell phones," reported The Voice of the Martyrs contacts working in India.

The Hindu extremists are demanding Pastor Selvan bring the senior pastor of the church to them or "face serious consequences."

Why?

They are following their religion. But wasn't Gandhi a Hindu who practiced "non-violence"?

The real Gandhi does not compare to the 1982 film version, play by Ben Kingsley. Consider these historical facts hidden from consumption by American liberals:

- Gandhi violently fought against Blacks in South Africa, for which he was awarded a War Medal.
- Gandhi was a racist who actually hated blacks. Read his own writings and his experiences while living in South Africa.
- Gandhi was a pervert who used virgin teenage girls for his personal pleasure. From having a different one sleep with him each night, to having them take turns massaging him and giving him enemas. He actually offered and performed enemas on others when he really liked them.

- Until it suited his political needs around age fifty, Gandhi didn't even teach "non-violence".
- From age fifty, Gandhi did not take part in war, but sought to establish a strong, obedient force that he could use for his political purposes.
- Gandhi supported the practice by Nawab of Maler Kotla and the shooting of 10 Muslims for every Hindu killed in his state.
- Gandhi praised the Nazi-supported Subhas Chandra Bose in his attempts at establishing an Indian dictatorship by brute force. Untold thousands were brutally murdered with Gandhi's approval.
- Upon gaining Indian independence in 1947, Gandhi created a standing army that violently squashed Hyderabad, forcing into the Indian union of states and ran over Kashmir.
- Most honest historians now acknowledge Gandhi's practice of driving others to violence while not taking part PERSONALLY. Just like Hitler.
- Gandhi's first hunger strike was AGAINST granting human rights to the "untouchables" of India's Caste system.
- Gandhi declared equality to the caste untouchables—an act mythologized and for which Gandhi has been deified. What you are not told is that this only lasted for a week after Britain vacated the now "independent" India. One week after their departure, the caste system returned and more than a million of these were slaughtered by the pro-Gandhi Indians who gained power. These are called the Independence Massacres.

Gandhi: Worshipped by Christ-haters who ignore his crimes against humanity

Gandhi was a nut who prescribed cow manure and human urine to be ingested for medicinal purposes. He let his wife die, refusing to allow her to receive the penicillin shot that would save her. Later, HE got one to survive illness and also had an appendectomy.

When you see Hindu's killing Christians, you must understand that they are following the founder of the modern version of their religion" Mahatma Gandhi. Just as the Islamic terrorists are following in the footsteps of their murderous founder, Muhammad.

SELF ESTEEM: UNBIBLICAL, IDOLATROUS AND DESTRUCTIVE FALSE TEACHING OF MAN BY MIKE KAHLER

Self-esteem is defined by the Oxford English Dictionary (OED) as a “favorable appreciation or opinion of oneself.” While it seems that the idea of self-esteem has been widely pushed these days, it is an idea going back many years.

An interesting feature of the OED is the etymology and timeline for each word it provides. It lists entries dating back to 1657 for the word self-esteem. If we study our Bibles, however, we realize they did not go back nearly far enough.

Having a favorable appreciation or opinion of oneself is putting oneself in the way of danger. Psychologists these days push the idea on our children of having self-esteem. They say we should not stifle a person’s self-esteem. We should not allow someone to think “unfavorably” of themselves. After all, this will only cause the person to feel depressed and will not allow them to reach their full potential.

Nothing could actually be further from the truth. This idea of thinking favorably about one’s self will only take us away from having faith in God.

The Book of Job
It is widely accepted that the book of Job is one of the oldest books of the Bible. In it, Job has a very well developed sense of self-esteem.

Job was an upright man. He feared the Lord and departed from evil.

What was missing, however, was the wisdom that always justifies God and condemns one’s self. We read through much of the book of Job, how he considered himself to be a righteous man; a man of integrity. Yet, all he had was taken from him.

He argues with his friends, “How could all this be?” He is a righteous, upstanding man who fears God. He is intelligent. Why would this happen to him?

It is not until we get near the end of the book that Job is set straight by Elihu. Elihu explains that regardless of man’s idea of righteousness, God is greater than man. As Job’s sense of self-esteem is weakened, God ultimately sets him straight.

It is after God shows Himself to be mightier than man, that Job realizes he is nothing in comparison to God. He is nothing without God. Job realizes he was speaking against God out of complete ignorance. Job comes to an understanding that he is vile and abhors himself. Job repents of his actions.

The Apostle Paul
In the New Testament we read of the apostle Paul who was a great man and yet, he speaks of himself as being wretched. Are these great men of God suffering from low self-esteem? No, they simply do not esteem themselves above God. They realized that without God they are absolutely worthless.

The whole idea of self-esteem is a tool of the devil to separate us from God. Lucifer had such great self-esteem that he considered himself to be above God. This is the end result of self-esteem: a total belief in one’s own knowledge and abilities leading to the idea that one does not need God in their life.

To the reader I ask that you consider whether you are suffering, not from low self-esteem, but from self-esteem.

Do you consider yourself able to do anything out of your own strength and ability? If so, please repent of your actions. Do not consider yourself greater than you actually are.

We, in and of ourselves, are not righteous before God’s eyes. It is only through and because of the blood of Jesus Christ that we have any righteousness before God. It is not of ourselves. Jesus Himself told us that there is none good but the Father.

Repentance

If you have not accepted Jesus and His blood atonement for your sins, I encourage you to do so now. Speak out to God and confess that you believe that Jesus died for your sins, was buried and rose from the dead and that He is seated at the right hand of the Father. (Romans 10:9-13) Make it clear that you want Jesus in your life and that you understand that without Him, you are a vile and wretched person.

By accepting Jesus’ atonement, you will be saved from eternal damnation. Without accepting Jesus’ payment for your sins, you are condemned to eternal separation from God. (John 3:16)

There is no need of having a complete understanding of all this; no one has that. We believe in God, we study and hear His words and our faith in God grows. We continually become more sure of who He is by accepting Jesus’ sacrifice for us and hearing from the word of God.

We willingly give up our own self-esteem and accept His guidance and leadership in our lives.

“This know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come. For men shall be lovers of their own selves,...”

2 Timothy 3:1-2

WAKING UP A CENTURY LATE

The Indianapolis Baptist Temple loses multi-million dollars worth of property and staff are imprisoned.

Kent Hovind of Pensacola, Florida (known as Dr. Dino) loses everything and goes to prison.

Why are these things happening?

A large and growing number of preachers and ministries are waking up to the fact that our income tax system is a corrupt scam. The 16th Amendment was a treasonous act perpetrated upon the American citizenry without even being legitimately ratified by the number of required states.

Shortly after this these same villainous thugs in Congress passed the so-called "Federal Reserve Act", that is neither a federal institution (it is a privately-owned and operated illegal entity) nor is it a RESERVE. It's an empty scheme of numbers and usury. It's a monopoly over our banking system and an abuse of the American taxpayer. It was passed at night during the Christmas of 1913 while the world had no idea what was going on.

Not only are preachers and ministries waking up,

Only recently, WorldNet-Daily.com published its "Whistleblower" magazine with a full edition on this scam.

"... you would find that a sufficient number of states never ratified that amendment."

-James C. Fox

[U.S. District Court Judge commenting on the 16th Amendment in a 2003 ruling.]

Aaron Russo (producer of "Trading Places" and many other works) has now put out a documentary called, "From Freedom to Fascism," and this has got to be the best I've seen to date. But don't watch it before going to bed. You won't be able to sleep for awhile afterward. (Visit his site at freedomtofascism.com)

The Problem

It's great to see people waking up to this. But it's a century too late. In the 90+ years since passage of the 16th Amendment and the Federal Reserve

Act, the U.S. government has solidified its ability to force Americans to do whatever the U.S. government wants its enslaved, ignorant population to do. Big brother is here.

Sadly, many so-called "right wing" Christians are stupid enough to believe that supporting so-called "conservative" politicians will get them somewhere. It will, but not where they want to go!

In Ohio, Christians spent hundreds of thousands of $$$ trying to get their pet politicians elected in this past election. Wasted. They lost.

But it would have been a waste, even if they'd won. Christians have been wasting time and money on "conservative" politicians in this state since I was old enough to vote and have been largely responsible for the election of the past two GOP governor's in Ohio, which produced a Jimmy Carter-type of malaise over the state.

All of this culminated with an indicted and convicted governor with a scandal-ridden administration that found its way through state agencies and put several folks behind prison bars. Good, godly bunch if you ever saw one.

That's corruption at the state level. The corruption on the federal level is even worse.

Dobson, Falwell, Robertson and the evangelical gurus of our time have been the power base of Republican politics. I don't fault them for wanting to see things change, but it's been a sad display of foolishness to watch them put hope in fallible men to legislate righteousness.

Evangelical cash to the tune of millions and time, to the tune of thousands of wasted man hours, have all gone into GOP campaigns. We're used to seeing liberal Christians waste cash and time on liberal politicians over the past 50 years, but this right-winged waste is about 30 years old and getting worse by the year.

And I don't expect liberal Christians to change their tune. They have no gospel but the social gospel.

Meanwhile, the so-called Evangelical Right should know better. Things will NOT get better and our time and money should be used to reach the lost with the Gospel of Jesus Christ and to publish King James Bibles (Spanish Valera 1865, Luther's German, etc.) to the world!

YOU'RE FOLLOWING A MAN!!

Very few people attempt to dispute my views on things like Bible translations, the Rapture, Israel, etc., by discussing the facts. They always make the following appeals:

1. The majority disagrees with me.

2. I am following a man!

On the first point, my simple response is, "I don't give a flip." Why would I care about the statistical information regarding who agrees or disagrees with me when I am discussing a matter of fact?

The majority believes in evolution. So? The majority is stupid.

On the second point, I find it a fascinating exchange between ME and the other person, who I shall refer to as Typical

Blockheaded Nut (TBN). The exchange usually goes something like this:

TBN: You're following a man.

ME: No, I believe the King James Bible is the infallible word of God in English.

TB: But you got that from a man. You're listening to a man and believing what he says.

ME: No, I believed the King James when I got saved and before I ever read any man's books or listened to other men preach. Other men tried to change me. My first pastor preaches from an NIV to this day. Since then, I've read many men on all sides of the issue.

TB: Who have you read that disagrees with your KJV-only view?

ME: I can take you to my library bookshelves right now and show you the books, complete with highlights and my hand-written notes.

I've read the Alexandrian crowd with books by Westcott and Hort, F.F. Bruce, Robert Gromacki, Norman Geisler, Josh McDowell, Spiros Zodhiates and others, along with the UBS text in different editions.

I've read the Majority Text crowd including books and articles by Zane Hodges, Wilbur Pickering, George Ricker Berry and the Hebrew-Greek-English Interlinear by Jay P. Green Sr.

I've read the Receptus-Only crowd with books by Dean John W. Burgon, Edward Hills, D. O. Fuller, Donald Waite, Theodore Letis and others.

I've read the King James Only crowd with books and works by Ruckman, Grady, Gipp, Riplinger and others.

And I believe the King James Bible is the infallible word of God.

Their response?

TBN: Well, no wonder you're confused!!

Now, that's what you'll deal with when you take a position that disagrees with the status quo. Blank ignorance.

You can't win. I don't agree with 100% of what these KJV-Only preachers teach. I don't disagree with 100% of what the anti-KJV-Only preachers teach. I don't agree with my own mother 100% of the time!

But I know where to find God's infallible BOOK!! And I'll be sticking with the King James Version until I hear a trumpet calling me out of here.

"WHAT MUST I DO TO BE SAVED?"

We have produced a CD for free distribution this Spring titled, "What Must I Do To Be Saved?"

This message is from the story of the Philippian jailor and is meant to challenge the unbeliever to be saved and to challenge believers to understand what our message is when speaking to the lost world around us.

Pray for this ministry. We hope to hand these out by the hundreds as we work the streets, especially during the upcoming festivals that take place in Worthington, Bexley and downtown Columbus.

The time is short and we want to be found faithful and busy about the Lord's work when He returns!

THE LOVE OF JESUS

The love of Jesus is fascinating to consider. It's something we take for granted, yet it is something that should cause us to perpetually praise the name of Jesus Christ.

Consider the false gods. What if one of these were the real god of the universe?

Allah does not love the Muslim. The very idea that a Muslim would look to Allah with a personal love and call him "father" or "redeemer" is unthinkable to the Muslim.

Think of the ideas about "god" that are shared by the pantheistic and pa-ganistic crowds. God is an impersonal force, according to these. And in such a religious system, we are alone in our attempt at uniting with the god-force of the universe.

Think of the false Jesus of Rome. He's a vindictive, strange person whose mother must stand in as a Mediator between us. He's designed a system of punishment that not only includes eternal damnation for the wicked, but even good Catholics must suffer unknown numbers of years in flames and torture!

Only by paying off the Roman Church with masses and indulgences can the faithful Catholic hope to shorten his or her time in purgatory. This is a very dark "jesus" that Rome preaches.

These three false religions enslave most of the world's population with their different false gods and leave us in a cold dark world of uncertainty and fear.

But the Bible says, "There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love." 1 John 4:18

Religion was formulated with the very intent to control you with fear. Jesus destroys fear and tells us to reject religion. He loves us and wants to set us free.

We urge the reader to reject man-made religion. If it's not in the King James Bible, it's not from God!

We can know true love by knowing Jesus. Not that we love Him, but that He first loved us and died for us. (Romans 5:8)

"We love him, because he first loved us." 1 John 4:19
